

Frosty the snowman

Made by: Ernst and Edwin

Once upon a time there was a snowman called Frosty. Frosty wanted to travel to the snowy island. BUT there was a problem. It was too hot here I am going to melt. The problem was a BIG BIG BIG Elephant. It was the biggest elephant in the whole world! It was so big that he almost covered the whole sky!

- Hello snowman! What's your name, said the elephant.
- My name is Frosty. What's yours.
- My name is Pete.
- OH, what a good name.
- What are you up to, asked Pete.
- I'm on my way to a snowy island.
- Oh! I know a really good way to a snowy island, the name is the Arctic.
- Thank you Pete! Goodbye, it was nice to meet you.

Frosty continued on his travel to the Arctic.

Frosty went to the hot Afrika. He walked on a hot path in the savannah. He almost melted. He heard a very squeaky sound from the ground. Frosty wondered what it was.

- Hi snowman! Did you try to kill me.
- Eh, no, who are you? I didn't see you.
- BUT I'M AN ANT, said the ant.
- Oh you are so small, say Frosty.
- And you're SO big! Said the ant.
- What's your name, asked Frosty?
- My name is Antly. What's yours?
- Frosty.
- What are you up to, asked Antly.
- I am searching for a snowy island. Can you help me?
- I know a really good airport where you can fly wherever you want to go, said Antly.
- REALLY.
- Yes, go to Ethiopia, it is not so clean but it's good for be Africa.
- It was nice to meet you, where is the airport? Asked Frosty
- Eh, eh take a left I think my brain is not so big. Goodbye said Antly.

Frosty walked to left and saw a BIG Sign where it said:
Ethiopia airport.

Frosty says YES! AT LAST. Frosty ran into the airport. He snuck through the security check and ran into an airplane.

After 7 hours

Frosty got out from the airplane and found the Arctic, He said AT LAST I FOUND IT!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!!

The end
